

Bigger Than Snowden: New Crimes in America

Austin, TX (3/10/17) – Edward Snowden didn't reveal anything substantially new to the American people. Whistleblowers such as William Binney, along with revelations regarding the existence of ECHELON in the 90s, alerted us to corruption and abuses of power within the Deep State a.k.a. the military-industrial complex. Snowden, in effect, served as a "limited hangout," and a reminder that "Big Brother is Watching." More troubling, his leaks distracted us from the far more serious crimes being carried out against countless innocent citizens by criminal elements in the Deep State. I'm referring to what's generally called the Monarch Program, which can only be described as the evolution and continuation of the mind / behavioral control program known as MK-ULTRA. These tactics are now being applied remotely with electromagnetic weapons. Electromagnetic weapons exploit the scientifically proven ability of the non-thermal effects of electromagnetic radiation (EMR) to control and manipulate the biological systems of human organisms. Some refer to the weapons as Remote Influence Technology, and they are being used to blindsides everyone.

The clever application of electromagnetic weapons has enabled a criminal cabal within the Deep State to covertly torture, terrorize, deceive, compromise, corrupt, enslave, exploit and kill hundreds of thousands of Americans. They operate without accountability, and they are building a network of deceived victims to perpetuate their crimes to further increase their power. They use misdirection, terror, and the threat of psychiatric reprisal to keep the victims silent and to enable the high-volume application of their crimes. Many people wrongly think that it's a force for good, or members of their community, or even a legal operation. In actuality, it's high treason carried out by elitist federal bureaucrats and oligarchs. The regularly committed offenses of the perpetrators, according to thousands of victims' statements, include extortion, assault, murder, corporate espionage, political and judicial corruption, pedophilia, sadistic torture, sabotage, forced labor, and the subverting of legal rights. They are doing this for entirely depraved and selfish reasons, namely to increase their budgets, wealth, and power - and to engineer society to their liking. It's literally laying the groundwork for the decapitation of democracy, the destruction of human rights, and the enslavement of the vast majority. If you ain't in the control center pushing the buttons, you will eventually be subjugated and ultimately betrayed, by this junta.

Electromagnetic weapons have been studied and developed since at least the 1960s. Our bodies are made of building blocks called atoms which are orbited by electrically sensitive particles called electrons. These electrons are highly sensitive to artificial electric and electromagnetic fields. Just as engineers harnessed the combustion of gasoline to power automobiles and all their incredible accessories, they have harnessed, and weaponized, electromagnetic radiation to monitor, control, manipulate, and torture humans. Unlike automotive technology, electromagnetic weapons have been heavily classified since the 60s, and their existence has been shrouded in clever cover stories (Projects Stargate, Grill Flame, and SDI), misdirection, and disinformation. However, amazing developments have been made over the decades. The sensing, tracking and targeting capabilities have been deployed ubiquitously now. The power, and lack of accountability, eventually corrupted the guardians of these devices, and starting in the 90s they began widely and increasingly turning them on the U.S., and worldwide, populace for the criminal reasons listed above.

The medical community acknowledges the existence of electromagnetic weapons; it acknowledges that electromagnetic weapons can cause incredible psychological and physical manipulations, and trauma, in victims; but it states that the weapons are classified and offers no procedures or tests to help the victims. The few doctors that have tried to help the victims (often referred to as targeted individuals) have been subjected to witch-hunts and have had their lives and careers destroyed – sometimes permanently. Detection, scanning, and bio-maker analysis are all options to help victims of these stealth weapons, but the medical community is turning a blind-eye out of fear, corruption and/or negligence. The victims of these weapons are often victimized a second time by the very bodies meant to help them, due to the egregious systemic refusal to even investigate these crimes. Many are simply given a discrediting psychiatric label based on subjectively defined symptoms in the DSM bible – completely lacking in empirical measurements!

The same can be said of the law enforcement communities. They acknowledge that these weapons exist and cause harm. Hundreds of peer-reviewed scientific and military studies confirm this; thousands of patents show that numerous contractors have been researching and developing these devices; numerous whistleblowers from organizations like the CIA and NSA state that they are being used on Americans; and thousands of credible and credentialed victims are crying out for help and reporting these crimes. However, the law enforcement communities haven't investigated the crimes reported by these victims – EVEN ONCE. I have a lot of admiration for organizations like the FBI. They've carried out some very advanced and technically sophisticated operations in the past - involving hundreds of agents, undercover operatives, and years of investigations. They've deployed very sophisticated technical surveillance and counter-surveillance methods to take down Mafiosos, drug dealers, and corrupt politicians. However, they refuse to investigate the claims of electromagnetic weapon victims - even though scanning, detection, and triangulation services fall well within their tool-box. The FBI is aware of the dangers, they even sent an Albany, NY man away for 30 years, in December 2016, for building an electromagnetic weapon with plans to kill Muslims – so they can't deny the reality of these weapons. However, when it comes to the widespread assault and subjugation with the more sophisticated forms of electromagnetic weapons – carried out by criminal elements within the Deep State – they are forced to turn a blind eye, or they do so out of fear. This country has spent hundreds of billions of dollars annually on the war against terror, since the tragic attacks of 9/11 claimed 3,000 lives. So why do we refuse to spend a few thousand dollars investigating the claims of 10,000s of credible victims just once? It's a huge red flag; it's a massive cover-up; it's a coup d'état being carried out in incremental steps; and it's literally laying the ground work for massive genocide.

Political philosophers - from Solon in Greece, 2,000 years ago, to the founders of American democracy – warned constantly that all democracies can turn into tyrannies if government power goes unchecked. It's a sad fact of human nature, that with few exceptions, power corrupts individuals and turns them into wolves if they lose accountability. Along that line, President Eisenhower chose as his final statement to the American people in 1961, above all other topics, a warning about the dangers of the military industrial complex to our human rights and to the ultimate survival of our democracy. We are seeing the outcomes of his warnings now. If you haven't been targeted, you will be eventually. Furthermore, we all grow weaker as thousands of people of integrity – our neighbors, friends, and family – annually fall prey to these emerging crimes carried out with the clever application of electromagnetic weapons, and stealth repression tactics, such as Organized Stalking a.k.a “Gang-Stalking” (with roots in the psychological terror tactics of COINTELPRO and Zersetzung) – that are often used together.

Though some mind reading & control technologies, such as EMOTIV and iBand+ are rolling out for citizens to buy, government technology is 50 years ahead of civilian technology in the AR/VR field. Capabilities of their electromagnetic weapons include: continuous tracking and targeting of individuals; monitoring, mapping and decoding of bio-electric signals for thought decoding and insertion; transmission of sound directly to the brain through the microwave auditory effect; the creation of synthetic emotions and synthetic images; and modulated dreams. They can even cause heart attacks or other ailments. These electromagnetic weapons are deployed throughout multiples platforms, including satellite, radar, vehicular, aerial, various utility & cellular grids, and our appliances. Needless to say, they give immense power to the operators, which in turn allows them to repress knowledge of their existence, thusly ensuring the longevity of their illegal use on American citizens.

There is hope! The perpetrators have a major weakness. Namely, MASSIVE PUBLIC AWARENESS. While the Deep State may contain 5 million members, whose actions are shrouded by classification laws, just a small percentage are involved in this criminal cabal that's enslaving Americans and destroying democracy. Therefore, they are in the minority, and must operate in secret. Criminal secret societies of the past, like the Mafia and KKK – that were putting Senators and Governors in office for decades – were shut down once a massive public outcry forced Congress and law enforcement to start substantial investigations & operations to terminate their crimes. All whistleblowers must go through this song and dance. In the 1940s you would've been laughed at for saying cigarettes were unhealthy; in the 1950s you would've been mocked if you said all people should have Civil Rights; and in the 1960s you would've been scoffed at if you said asbestos was dangerous. The truth eventually prevails.
